

Welcome to Neurology Santa Rosa

OUR DEPARTMENT

The Neurology Department at Kaiser Permanente Santa Rosa Medical Center consists of four board certified neurologists available to diagnose and treat the complex variety of maladies which occur around the central nervous system. We provide office based consultations for a wide variety of neurologic conditions. These may include epilepsy, stroke, Parkinson's disease, multiple sclerosis, neuropathy, and tremors for adult patients. We also supervise the EEG laboratory and interpret the EEG studies.

Kaiser Permanente Santa Rosa Medical Center has been a Joint Commission certified Primary Stroke Center since 2009. We are proud to be an integral part of the stroke team, delivering high quality care to patients with acute strokes.

Dr. Gong, Dr. Ho, Dr. Kim and Dr. Mohammadi, welcome you to the neurology department.

YOUR FIRST VISIT

New or first time patients are seen by referral from your personal physician. You may be asked to fill out a patient questionnaire. If you receive one, please bring it with you to the visit. While we are able to review your laboratory reports, medications filled at the Kaiser Permanente pharmacy and recent imaging studies on our computers, we do not have access to non-Kaiser Permanente medical systems. For this reason, please make sure we receive copies of all records or x-rays taken at other facilities that pertain to your current problem. It is often helpful to bring a list of specific questions and concerns you may have to each visit.
